116 000 Mediation Service Cyprus

A child is reported missing every 2 minutes in Europe.

Children suffer when disputing parents try to move them beyond the reach of the other, often across international and legal boundaries.

Together we can make a change!

Mediation is a powerful way to resolve these disputes and move forward for the children's sake

This document has been produced with the financial support of the Rights, Equality and Citizenship (REC) Program of the European Union. The content are the sole responsibility of the 116000 Cyprus Mediation service and can no way be taken to reflect the views of the European Commission.

Co-funded by the Rights, Equality & Citizenship Programme
of the European Union

Mediation Service invites parents and couples to explore alternative forms of dispute resolution and offers the prospect of settling their own agreement in situations where they have limited recourse to the law.

116 000 Hotline

116 000 is the European Emergency Hotline for missing children. The hotline operates in 31 European countries and is backed by trained professionals (such as Social Workers, Sociologists, Lawyers and Psychologists), who support and help the families, the victims as well as the Police. Couples in conflict will be able to use the cross-border family mediation service as a preventive or an intervention tool to settle their in-between conflicts, whether their residence is in Cyprus or in any other European country.

In Cyprus, the line is operated by the consortium "Hope For Children" CRC Policy Center and the Association for the Prevention and Handling of Violence in the Family, in cooperation with the Ministry of Justice and Public Order with whom the Consortium has signed a Protocol.

Aims

Cross border family mediation – where family is separating and there are links with another country.

Prevention of abduction.

Support and protect the children from harm related to cross-border family disputes.

Contact across international borders..

Mediation is offered in cases of:

- ◇ Parental child abduction or/and wrongful retention.
- ◇ Cross-border parental child abduction.
- ◇ Parental conflict that has adverse effect on children's wellbeing.

The Mediation Service is offered for free from specialized trained professionals.
